So sorry you missed...

John McCain
Senator and Presidential Candidate
June 28th, 2007

Kathy Kemper (CEO and Founder, Institute for Education) and Senator John McCain

For the past sixteen years, one of Washington's best kept secrets has been the high-powered, invitation-only forums hosted by Institute for Education founder Kathy Kemper. Known as INFO Policy Roundtables, these exclusive events bring together politicians and journalists, Supreme Court Justices, Cabinet Secretaries, Nobel Laureates, ambassadors and CEOs, professional athletes, composers, and even a Miss America to talk policy and politics over muffins or cocktails.

Always off-the-record and always full of friendly banter, Coach Kemper's INFO forums give Washington's elite a chance to put business and partisanship aside and hear from their peers about the important issues of the day.
