

Institute for Education

The Institute for Education's NextGen Roundtable presents...

Brian Forde

Senior Advisor to the U.S. Chief Technology Officer in The White House Office of Science and Technology Policy

Previously, Brian served as the President of Llamadas, S.A. where he lead the strategic efforts to bring low-cost phone service to rural Nicaragua. Llamadas, S.A. received the Pioneers of Prosperity award by the Seven Fund and the Inter-American Development Bank. Llamadas was recognized by the US Ambassador to Nicaragua as the one of the most innovative companies in the fight against poverty. Prior to founding Llamadas, Brian was a Peace Corps volunteer teaching small business classes to high school students in the mountains of Nicaragua. Brian graduated with a B.A. in Sociology from the University of California, Los Angeles and a M.B.A. from the London Business School.

From Entrepreneurship in Nicaragua to the White House

Thursday, February 27, 4:45 pm

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace:
The Pulitzer Center on Crisis Reporting
1779 Mass. Ave NW Suite #615, Washington, DC 20036

Come enjoy free pizza & a fantastic dicussion!
RSVP Required to natip@instituteforeducation.org
(Include your first and last name, school, and class year)

