

The Institute for Education Celebrates 25 Years!

Please join Jim Valentine, Coach Kathy Kemper, founders of the Institute for Education and Professor Jeffrey Miller, USC Viterbi School of Engineering and Director of USC's FREE computer science coding camp (CS@SC) for economically disadvantaged kids. Hors d'oeuvres and drinks will be served.

Saturday, January 23, 2016 from 4:00 to 6:00pm
Casa Sealy | 6117 El Romero, Rancho Sante Fe, California, 92067

Please RSVP to Coachkemper@instituteforeducation.org

Robotics and Drone demonstrations will be given by the USC VexU Robotics team and actual CS@SC Summer Camp participants and staff. You will also have the opportunity to operate the robots and some drones!

The CS@SC Summer Camps offer free computer programming camps to K12 students, specifically targeting girls, low income families, and under-represented ethnicities. The camps are primarily funded by the Institute for Education and are planning to expand for future years. Come learn more about this great opportunity and all the benefits the students experience. For more information, please read about the camps at Reading, Writing, Adding, Subtracting, and CODING and visit the CS@SC Summer Camp web site by clicking the links below.
